

Arizona Anthropologist

Papers of the University of Arizona

Department of Anthropology

Number 8

1992

Published by the Anthropology Students Assoc.

University of Arizona, Tucson

CONTENTS

The Role of Craft Specialization in the Evolution of Prehistoric Societies in the American Southwest, Catherine M. Cameron	1
Psychic Healing and Women: An Example from a Spiritualist-Metaphysical Church, K. Brooke Hansen	18
Japanese Social Organization in the Tokugawa and Post-World War II Periods: Changes in Family and Household Structure and Organization, Eric C. Poncelet	36
The Perception and Study of Rural Change in the Andes: the Inka Case, Mary Van Buren	52
A Cognitive Model of Stress, Ruth Van Dyke	71
Deodorized Culture: Anthropology of Smell in America, Marybeth MacPhee	89
Anthropological Perspectives on Infanticide, Alexandra A. Brewis	103
About the Contributors	120