Over-All County Programs

The lack of adult leadership continues to be one of the most difficult problems of the over-all county program.

As stated in the 4-H outlook last year the Hopi Reservation did become more interested in 4-H club work. The Hopi people are concentrated in villages and are easier to organize than are other Reservation Indians. School teachers on the Reservations act as leaders during the school year. School teachers in the private communities do not care to lead 4-H club programs.

The distance between communities tends to make county-wide activities difficult.

Home Agent Welcome

The Home Economics leaders and members welcomed Bettie Mead, the new Home Agent on July 1, 1956.

The County Agent and the very helpful specialists carried the program from October 1, 1955 to July 1, 1956.

Navajo County 4-H Club program will continue to grow in the future.

Showlow Clubs

The Rags and Tags and the Rip and Stitch Clubs of Holbrook have been visited. One member from Rags and Tags needed help with her circular skirt hem. (She hadn't read her booklet) There is a good possibility of starting a 4-H Club in Show Low. The Home Agent made contacts through Carolyn Curtis, a Yuma County Junior Leader. She is working in ShowLow just summers to save money for college. She thinks one of her three aunts might be a leader. Carolyn says Show Low really needs a 4-H Club.

U.S.I.S. Meeting

The Land Operations Officers and the 2 Extension Agents from Whiteriver met with the Agent September 26, regarding information available for the Indian Service.

The Agent feels that the Apache Campaign will be to recruit school house members rather than quality 4-H Club work. Time will tell.

LEADERSHIP OF 4-H CLUB WORKSource of Leadership

Source of leadership of Navajo County 4-H Club work is mostly lay leaders. Most of the lay leaders are parents who have children enrolled in 4-H Club work. One exception to this is those clubs which are organized on the Indian Reservation. School teachers have assisted as leaders on the reservations.

Leaders are secured by recommendations from the community and the boys and girls who desire to organize a club. The Agents with or without the club members may contact prospective leaders.

Leaders for boys clubs are more difficult to obtain than leaders for girls' projects. Mrs. Bowler, Mr. and Mrs. Cephas Perkins and Mr. and Mrs. Rex Hunt had charge of the boys' projects in their community clubs.

Junior Leadership

This year the following members were enrolled in Junior Leadership projects: Burdean Gregory and Todd Hunt. The Junior Leaders need a great deal of help with this project.

Leader Training Program

Leader Training meetings on organization and planning are conducted by the Agents with the cooperation of the State 4-H leaders. Training meetings on subject matter were held by the Agents in cooperation with the subject matter specialists of the University of Arizona.

HOME ECONOMICS LEADER TRAINING

February Clothing Leader Training School

On February 9, two 4-H Club leaders representing 1st, 2nd and 3rd year clothing construction projects met with the Home Agent, Mrs. Madeline McConnico. There were construction problems to be solved and other 4-H Club questions to be answered.

A representative question was, "Would it be necessary for a 13 or 14 year old girl to start with 1st year clothing project?" Not necessarily depending on how well prepared she is so far as sewing is concerned.

Those attending were:

Mrs. G.H. (Anna) Gardner, Third year Sewing, Snowflake, Ariz.
Mrs. Jessie M. (Marvel) Smith 1st year Sewing, Snowflake, Ariz.

Announce 4-H Contest Day April 14

Due to the sickness of Mrs. McConnico, it was necessary for Miss Jean Stewart to fly to and from Winslow to judge the contest. The agent met Miss Stewart at Winslow in the morning and returned her to Winslow in the evening.

Singer Sewing Machine Training Meeting

On Nov. 3, a 4-H leader meeting was held in Winslow. The Home Agent contacted Mrs. Sarbentos twice about the Winslow Singer Sewing Machine meeting asking what Mrs. Sarbentos wished the Home Agent to do before and at the meeting. Return cards had the promise of 11 to attend the meeting but 6 came. Mrs. Kavena was to have brought some leaders but evidently something happened to prevent her coming. Mrs. Sarbentos taught the first unit and announced that the Home Agent would teach the second unit so she did. The women present seemed to like the meeting. They didn't yet know how many 4-H'ers they would have so the 4-H'er material couldn't be ordered.
