

ARIZONA MUSEUM NOTES

By ELIZABETH S. OLDAKER

A reception for pioneer women of Arizona was held at the museum the afternoon of April 7. Mrs. Effie Keen, State Historian, was general chairman, assisted by many able helpers, all of whom were dressed in colonial costume, in celebration of the George Washington Bi-centennial. About one hundred and fifty women attended. It was decided to hold open house for pioneer women at the museum the last Thursday of each month.

On the morning of the second day of the Annual Pioneer Re-union, April 20, the pioneers were entertained, as usual, with a reception and entertainment at the museum. Several hundred guests were served with coffee and rolls during the morning. Mr. J. W. Walker, president of the museum, and Mrs. Fanny Marlar had charge of the program which included talks by Gov. Geo. W. P. Hunt, Mayor Paddock, and remarks from many of the pioneers.

April 10 Lula Howard, one of the best pottery makers of the Maricopa Indian Tribe, brought her materials from the reservation and gave an excellent demonstration of the way in which pottery is made by that tribe. She left some pottery of which the museum easily disposed. The museum has succeeded in helping the Indians to market their wares in several instances.

April 25 Prof. J. W. Hoover, head of the geography department of the Tempe Teachers College, gave an illustrated lecture on the Navajo Indians and the section of Arizona in which they live. The lecture, entitled "Navajo Nomadisms," was accompanied by numerous beautifully colored slides.

RECENT ADDITIONS TO THE MUSEUM COLLECTION

A Philippine Head Basket has been presented by Mrs. Wm. A. Glassford in the name of her husband, Col. Wm. A. Glassford, who served in the United States army in the Philippines many years ago.

A Mortar and pestle used in Tombstone in 1880 has been presented by Mr. P. E. Davis.

Large picture of Matt Caveness, Arizona pioneer who came in 1864, donated by his daughter, Mattie Caveness Hann.
