

ARIZONA JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW

VOLUME 10, NUMBER 2

FALL 1993

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ARTICLES	Page
FALSE WITNESS: A LAWYER'S HISTORY OF THE LAW OF PERJURY Richard H. Underwood	215
From Cain to Potiphar's Wife to the pig and chicken laws of the Lex Salica of Clovis I, Professor Underwood examines the role of the false witness throughout history. Take a voyage extraordinaire and encounter some of history's most notorious perjurers.
THE CIVIL RIGHTS OF THE ABORIGINAL PEOPLES OF THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA John T. Cross Kristin M. Lomond	253
Despite fundamental differences between the legal systems of the United States and Canada, the two nations have arrived at rather consistent results with respect to aboriginal civil rights. Professor Cross and Ms. Lomond examine the problem of applying a western construct to aboriginal societies and discuss the sources of the civil rights afforded to aboriginals that other citizens do not enjoy. The comparative analysis elucidates some of the fundamental issues that arise when a nation created by conquest of native peoples attempts to afford civil rights to those natives.
A COMPARATIVE ANALYSIS: NOTICE REQUIREMENTS IN GERMANY, JAPAN, SPAIN, THE UNITED KINGDOM AND THE UNITED STATES G. Brian Raley	301
With the increase in international trade and investment in the post-World War II era and the concurrent rise in transnational litigation, it is increasingly necessary to bring suit against persons located abroad. After analyzing the multilateral Hague Service Convention, Mr. Raley compares the notice requirements in Germany, Japan, Spain, the United Kingdom and the United States. This useful article will aid practitioners in responding effectively to the complexities of modern international litigation.

ESSAYS

RESOLUTION OF INVESTMENT DISPUTES UNDER THE NORTH AMERICAN FREE TRADE AGREEMENT

David A. Gantz 335

Professor Gantz argues that the framework for resolving investment disputes under the North American Free Trade Agreement provides a high degree of investment protection for American, Canadian, and Mexican investors and is a valuable tool for enlarging cross-border investment.

THE DUTCH LAW OF CHILD RECOGNITION AND ITS APPLICATION TO EXTRA-MATRIMONIAL PROCREATION

Mirjam Freudenthal 349

Professor Freudenthal examines various statutorily-created rights and case law developments pertaining to paternal recognition of children in Dutch law. Her analysis encompasses the European Convention on Human Rights, surrogate maternity contracts, a new Dutch Bill on commercial surrogate motherhood, and recent legal developments in Germany.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

RUSSIA'S NUCLEAR WASTE LAW: A RESPONSE TO THE LEGACY OF ENVIRONMENTAL ABUSE IN THE FORMER SOVIET UNION

Kathleen M. Maloney-Dunn 365

For decades, the Soviets dumped and otherwise improperly disposed of massive amounts of nuclear waste, causing grave environmental, health, and nuclear safety hazards in Russia today. Ms. Maloney-Dunn analyzes the proposed Nuclear Waste Law, which seeks to regulate military and industrial nuclear activities and addresses the uncontrolled radioactive contamination threatening Russia and the global community.

I THINK THAT I SHALL NEVER SEE, STANDING FOR A TREE: OR HAS THE LUJAN V. DEFENDERS OF WILDLIFE DECISION SPELLED DOOM FOR EXTRATERRITORIAL ENVIRONMENTAL STANDING?

Tony Ed Monzingo

431

The issue of extraterritorial environmental standing remains unresolved despite the Supreme Court's decision in Lujan v. Defenders of Wildlife, holding the Endangered Species Act applicable only on American soil. Mr. Monzingo recommends legislative and litigation strategies to reinvigorate the extraterritorial application of the Endangered Species Act.

DISPUTE RESOLUTION UNDER CHAPTER 19 OF THE NAFTA: ANTIDUMPING AND COUNTERVAILING
BUSINESS AS USUAL

Robert Napoles

459

NAFTA's Chapter 19 establishes a trilateral forum for seeking appellate review of party's antidumping and countervailing duty orders. Mr. Napoles discusses Chapter 19's intricacies and the international influences that helped shape it. The Comment concludes that although the appeals process will be enhanced protectionist practices will not be dissuaded.

FOREIGN OWNED SUBSIDIARIES AND NATIONAL ORIGIN DISCRIMINATION: CAN FEDERAL EMPLOYMENT DISCRIMINATION LAW AND EMPLOYER CHOICE PROVISIONS BE RECONCILED?

David T. Wilson

507

International commercial treaties appear to exempt certain employment practices of foreign enterprises operating in the United States from U.S. employment discrimination law. Mr. Wilson discusses the applicable law and examines the judicial attempts to reconcile U.S. treaty obligations with the protection of Americans in the workplace.

