

ARIZONA JOURNAL OF INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW

VOLUME 8

1991

TABLE OF CONTENTS

ARTICLES	Page
ON THE STATE OF COMMERCIAL LAW AT THE END OF THE TWENTIETH CENTURY Boris Kozolchyk Professor Kozolchyk traces the historical development of the key legal principles that have formed today's marketplace. He uses this assessment as a vehicle for commenting on the present state of commercial law. He suggests that global legal uniformity is essential for the future of today's complex international market.	1
THE INDEPENDENCE OF THE JUDICIARY IN POLAND: REFLECTIONS OF ANDRZEJ RZEPLINSKI'S SANDOWNICTWO W POLSCE JUDOWEJ (THE JUDICIARY IN PEOPLE'S POLAND) Stanislaw Frankowski Using Dr. Rzeplinski's book on the independence of the judiciary as a basis for discussion,* Professor Stanislaw Frankowski reviews the historical role of the judiciary in communist Poland. He discusses the changes that have occurred since the legalization of Solidarity and hypothesizes about the likelihood of a genuinely pluralistic political system that will leave room for a truly independent judiciary.	33
PAWNBROKING: AN HISTORICAL, COMPARATIVE PERSPECTIVE Jarret C. Oeltjen Professor Oeltjen not only examines the historical evolution of pawnbroker regulation, but also compares the pawnbroker regulations in different nations. He argues that the stringent regulation is adversely impacting the pawnbroking industry.	53

SUITS BY FOREIGN PLAINTIFFS: KEEPING THE DOORS
OF AMERICAN COURTS OPEN Winton D. Woods 75
 Professor Woods discusses whether a United States court may refuse to entertain an action brought by a foreign plaintiff against United States or foreign defendants. The focal point of his inquiry is Dow Chemical Co. v. Castro Alfaró, a recent Texas Supreme Court decision.

ISRAEL AND ANTICIPATORY
SELF DEFENSE Louis René Beres 89
 Professor Beres examines Israeli strategic policy according to international law. He proposes reasons that justify Israel's use of the anticipatory self defense strategy.

JAPANESE FISCAL POLICIES:
LESSONS FROM THE PAST AND
ISSUES FOR THE FUTURE Alan S. Gutterman 101
 Mr. Gutterman explores the role of the Japanese government in guiding and influencing that nation's economic activities. Present day financial policies and quasi-official goals and means of development are traced to cultural and historical events in Japan. Mr. Gutterman demonstrates that the integration of the Japanese economy is an inevitable consequence of the unique factors which combine to form modern-day Japan.

LIVING LAW

AN INTERVIEW WITH PROFESSOR ERIC STEIN 137
 Renowned expert in European Community law, Professor Eric Stein talks candidly about his personal experience in the development of the E.E.C. and his predictions for the future.

NOTES

REMOVING THE TACTICAL ADVANTAGES OF INTERNATIONAL PARENTAL CHILD ABDUCTIONS
UNDER THE 1980 HAGUE CONVENTION ON THE
CIVIL ASPECTS OF INTERNATIONAL
CHILD ABDUCTIONS Julia R. Rutherford 149

THE EUROPEAN ECONOMIC COMMUNITY AND
THE UNITED STATES TAKE THEIR PLACES
IN THE INTERNATIONAL FINANCIAL
MARKET PLACE Benis E. Bernstein 169